

REGISTER'S NEW PRESS—The 16-page Duplex Tubular newspaper press, which will be installed within the next three weeks in The Daily Register plant, is pictured in the press room of The Daily Camera, Boulder, Colorado, where the press is now being dismantled for shipment to Harrisburg.

About Town And Country

By TIMOTHY T.

COMBING THE WEEKLIES: (From Charlie Feirich's Metropolis News): A state boys' camp may be established this summer at Fort Massac state park. The possibility became known last Saturday after a visit to the park by state officials. Rep. Gordon Kerr is helping make arrangements.

The camps are rehabilitation centers for delinquent boys. At present there are three operating in the state, the closest one at the Dixon Springs experiment station.

(From Harry Porter's Hardin County Independent): A memorandum of understanding submitted by the Southeastern Illinois Electric co-operative to officials of the city of Rosiclare was tabled Monday night at the meeting of the board of aldermen until the next board meeting, to give councilmen time to study it.

The memorandum was a statement giving conditions and terms upon which the REA affiliate could and would furnish electric service in Rosiclare.

The co-operative is contemplating purchase of the electric distribution system in Rosiclare, owned by the Rosiclare Lead and Fluorspar Mining Co., which is in the process of liquidation.

An agreement has been reached between the mining company and the co-op on the purchase of the system by the co-operative providing that the co-op can obtain from the city of Rosiclare a franchise to operate within the city.

(From Roy Clippinger's Gallatin Democrat): Contract for resurfacing the Morganfield-Shawneetown road was awarded Corum and Edwards, Inc., of Madisonville, Ky., by the state highway department of the Commonwealth of Kentucky last week.

Specifications call for bituminous concrete which is a high grade asphalt. The contract includes 10.5 miles, and will extend from the intersection of Main and Morgan streets in Morganfield to the new bridge approach.

BACK HOME: Uncle Nick has a big new sign down at his 45 Drive-In restaurant that lets you know in big bright letters that you're still on Route 45 and that there's a place to eat at hand. The sign was installed last week.

Daily Register Installing Modern 16-Page Capacity Newspaper Press

New Equipment Designed To Continue
Improvement of Area's Leading Newspaper

As a part of a continuing program to improve the facilities of The Daily Register plant in order to produce a better newspaper for this area, a 16-page press will be installed in The Register plant within the next month.

The press will replace the 8-page Model "E" Duplex press, which was put into use by The Register in 1940, and which has been outgrown due to increased circulation and number of pages printed by The Register.

The new press has been purchased from The Daily Camera in Boulder, Colorado, which newspaper likewise outgrew its facilities. Earl Clark, machinist and Ed Seright, of The Register staff are now in Boulder supervising dismantling of the press by a crew of Boulder riggers.

Different Printing Method

The standard 16-page Duplex Tubular press, which will print twice as many pages at one time at four times the speed of the presently used press, utilizes a different method of printing.

Type will be composed and placed into page forms as heretofore, but instead of printing direct from the type, impression of the type will be made in a heat resistant paper board and from this a tubular plate will be made for the press, like the one shown in the lower left section of the picture accompanying this article.

A mat roller, metal furnace, electrical control and other auxiliary equipment have been installed in The Register plant.

T. P. Thompson & Son have completed a huge pit over which the press will be placed and Ford Electric has installed the large electric control to govern the 50-horsepower press drive motor and auxiliary motors.

Climax to Improvements

Installation of the press will climax a physical improvement program instituted by The Register in 1951. At that time the need for the press was evident, but no space was available.

The new addition to the north of the old building was erected, the commercial department was moved to the front of this area, leaving the rear section for the new press, and other mechanical improvements were made coincident with rearranging the office facilities.

The new press was purchased more than a year ago, subject to delivery of The Boulder Camera's new press, and since that time plans for the installation have been put into effect.

The Register's old press has been sold to a Lithuanian Catholic publication in Chicago, and will be moved out as soon as the incoming press operation is perfected.

Anita Jane Barger, 7, Suffers Injury

Anita Jane Barger, age 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur X. Barger, 305a West Church, suffered a concussion of the brain Wednesday afternoon when she fell from a swing at the Horace Mann school where she is in the second grade. She was rushed to the Lightner hospital and from there to a specialist in Evansville. Anita lost her vision temporarily, but was released last night to return home where she must remain in bed for about a week. Her condition is much improved.

Sermon by the Rev. J. W. Cummins, 90, To Culminate Methodist Centennial

The culmination of the observance of 100 years in Harrisburg of the First Methodist church will be the sermon to be delivered tomorrow morning by the Rev. J. W. Cummins, retired Methodist minister of the Southern Illinois conference. He is 90 years old and has not been active for several years and is at present living in Texas with a son. He was talented as a minister and it is known that many of his former friends plan to attend the 10:40 service Sunday to hear him again.

Last evening the young people of the church presented one of the most enjoyable and impressive services of the centennial week. The first part of their program was music. With Mrs. Robert Norman as organist the young people entered the church in a processional with the little junior choir leading, dressed in uniform white blouses and red ties and dark skirts and trousers. The band members of the Intermediate department and the youth choir dressed in their robes took places in the choir pews.

Under the direction of Mrs. John Woolcott, the junior choir sang "God of Our Fathers" and "This is My Father's World." Sam Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parker, sang the solo part in the latter selection pleasing the audience with his clear voice.

The band played several of the old favorite hymns in excellent manner. The minister, the Rev. W. L. Cummins, hopes to have the band play soon during some Sunday evening service.

The youth choir under the direction of Bill Williams sang two anthems with Miss Paula Reynolds as accompanist.

The second part of their program was a consecration service "Continuing in Faith." Bill Bottomley gave the opening remarks of this service enumerating those who had accomplished their goals in life through faith and pledged that the youth of the church will continue through the years to work through faith to continue the life of the church. An impressive candle lighting service followed with Mary Elizabeth Schwartz, Janet Tanner, Carole Cable, David Burnham, Harold Guard and Jane Lasersohn giving their charges.

Bill Skaggs, president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship last year, gave the welcoming remarks and opening prayer.

Several of the mothers of the young people served refreshments of sandwiches, cakes and ice cream bars to them in Wesley Center after the completion of the program.

Eisenhower's Checkup Is Described as 'Excellent'

Reveal British Apology for Frogman Action

Russia Announces
Exchange of Notes
On Incident

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Anthony Eden's embarrassed government admitted today it secretly apologized to the Russians for the behavior of a British frogman who vanished near Russian ships in Portsmouth harbor.

The Foreign Office confirmed Russia's unexpected announcement of an exchange of notes on the incident.

The notes, broadcast by Radio Moscow Friday night, disclosed more of the incident to the Russians than Eden had told the British Parliament.

Broadest "Bitter Shock" Political sources said the broadcast came as a "bitter shock" to the Eden government. This was supported by the fact that the Foreign Office did not even confirm the existence of the notes for 14 hours after Moscow published the texts.

The text of the British note, however, still did not explain exactly what the skindiver, Lt. Cmdr. Lionel Crabb, was doing at the time. The government has "presumed" him dead.

The Foreign Office continued its tight-lipped silence on the case, limiting itself merely to releasing the official British answer to a Soviet demand for an explanation of the case.

At the regular noon briefing, a Foreign Office spokesman would say only that the British note went "somewhat further" than Eden's statement to Parliament.

He parried newsmen's persistent questions as to whether Russia broke confidence in making the notes public.

"It is customary for a government to reveal its own notes," was his reply.

Informed sources said no protest was planned.

The British note was dated May 9, the day after Eden refused to tell Parliament about Crabb on the grounds it was "not in the public interest." The Soviet note was dated May 4.

Other British sources said today it was known that Russian frogmen spied on Royal Navy ships which visited Leningrad last October.

The sources brought up the Leningrad incident in an attempt to relieve Eden of some of his acute embarrassment over the Crabb controversy.

State's Attorney Robert W. Wilson today said he had received several complaints about people dumping rubbish along the highway at the intersection of Route 34 south of Harrisburg instead of taking it into the dump.

These people are violating the law, Wilson said, adding that they will be prosecuted.

Senate Group Expects Answers from Justice Dep't on Case of Mexican Maid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Appropriations subcommittee may peel off the "closed" label that the Justice Department stuck on the case of Immigration Commissioner Joseph M. Swing's government-ruled Mexican maid.

A top Justice Department official told newsmen rather stiffly the department considers the maid case "closed." But a subcommittee staff member said today the group still expects answers from the department Monday on some questions posed by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.).

How many government man-hours did it take for an undercover man to persuade the girl to quit her job in a Juarez restaurant?

How many more man hours were spent getting her a visa and sending her to Washington to be a maid in the home of Swing, a retired general and West Point classmate of President Eisenhower?

How many more man hours were spent solving the maid problem the same way?

Swing was appearing before the subcommittee to seek funds this week when Johnson asked him about the maid problem. He also asked Swing whether Atty. Gen.

Task Force Chief Confirms Nuclear Program Will Test H-Warheads for Missiles

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY at Eniwetok (AP)—The commander of the Pacific joint atomic task force today gave the first official confirmation that the H-bomb can be engineered into a warhead for the intercontinental guided missiles of the future.

Rear Adm. B. Hall Hanlon told newsmen that one of the prime purposes of this year's U. S. nuclear program at the proving grounds here is to "design and test" hydrogen warheads for what has been described as "the ultimate weapon."

Hanlon made the statement in a chat with newsmen after he had announced the fifth postponement of the first U. S. H-bomb drop to next Monday. The big shot had been slated for Sunday, but was tentatively rescheduled for Monday morning (about 2 p. m. Sunday EDT) due to adverse wind conditions.

The air drop had been scheduled originally for last Tuesday (Eniwetok time).

Today a reporter asked Hanlon: "If a hydrogen device can be made into a bomb that will fit into an airplane bomb bay, can it be engineered into a warhead for large missiles?"

"We can certainly engineer it into a warhead," the Admiral replied. "I think one of our purposes out here is to design and test such things."

This year's tests, known as Operation Redwing, are the most extensive ever planned for the proving grounds.

The opening shot was an atomic warhead for an anti-aircraft missile or battlefield weapon. It was at first believed to have been extremely small, but later estimates are that it yielded a wallop equal to more than 30,000 tons of TNT. Only two U. S. long-range, rocket-driven missiles big enough for multi-megaton hydrogen warheads are known to be under development. They are Convair's Atlas and Martin's Titan.

Armed with hydrogen fury comparable to millions of tons of TNT, they could speed 5000 miles over oceans or continents in a matter of minutes to wipe out an enemy metropolis.

Two Chanute Base Sergeants Killed

LUDLOW, Ill. (AP)—Two Chanute Air Force Base staff sergeants were killed early today when their car plunged down an embankment on U. S. 45 near here and overturned several times.

Killed were Jerome S. Secor, 30, Ridgway, Pa., and Leonard J. Zoronski, 23, Wausau, Wis. Authorities said Secor apparently was the driver of the car.

Woman Wins $25,000 Cash, Prizes on TV Show
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mrs. Corinne Gomez, 20-year-old Chicago mother, won $25,000 in cash and prizes Friday night on the television quiz show "Truth or Consequences."

Mrs. Gomez, wife of a waiter at Chicago's Drake Hotel, identified the "mystery location" shown in film clips as being in Memphis, Tenn., a NBC spokesman said.

Herbert Brownell Jr. used an Immigration Service plane on a trip to see Johnson's political foe, Gov. Allan Shivers, at Woodville, Tex.

The Justice Department said in a statement Friday that Brownell was on "official business" to speak to the Houston Bar Assn. and inspect penitentiaries. It said he did not use the plane to go to Woodville.

Swing told the subcommittee it's hard to find a maid in Washington.

So, he said, on one of his inspection trips to El Paso, Tex., he asked the district immigration director: "I wonder if there is any little Mexican girl over in Juarez who would like to immigrate and come over and go to work for me."

Swing said an undercover man across the Rio Grande in Juarez—though Swing added that it was "off the record"—that the service had undercover men—told him later: "I know a fine little girl working in this restaurant."

The retired general said he telephoned the district director from Washington and told him: "Put her on the plane and I will send the money down there and pay for her visa and her passage up here. If she wants to immigrate, fine."

Mother Opossum with Five Babies Taken To Humane Shelter

Humane shelter man Floyd Jennings, on his first day on the job, yesterday came through in an unusual task.

"There's an opossum in the yard and I'm afraid it will bite some of the children," a woman said, giving an address in the 500 block of East Walnut street.

When Jennings arrived there was an opossum, and five baby "possums" clinging to her breast.

Using a noose and pole, he got the animal into a cat cage, the young still holding on, and took the group to the humane shelter.

Plans were to release them in a wooded area.

U. S. 6th Fleet Cancels Plans To Visit Crete

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The U. S. 6th Fleet has cancelled plans for a good-will visit to the island of Crete because of the anger aroused in Greece by Britain's execution of two young Cypriots, it was announced today.

A U. S. embassy spokesman said the visit was called off on the advice of the Greek Foreign Ministry.

The newspaper Kiriak, published in the Cretan city of Canea, warned today that American sailors "might not get a pleasant reception" if they visited the big Greek island under present conditions.

Kiriak said the fleet's proposed stay in Canea harbor should either be cancelled or that its leave-hungry sailors should be kept aboard ship while the naval visitors were in Crete.

The 6th Fleet, however, is still scheduled to carry out the remainder of the calls on its cruise of Greek waters.

The Foreign Ministry refused comment. But informed sources said Crete naval authorities cabled Friday night warning of anti-American feeling on the island.

The United States had nothing to do with the executions on the disputed island—except for a vain effort to persuade Britain to postpone them—but Greek fury has been vented in part on U. S. installations.

A Greek mob stoned the U. S. Information Service office here Wednesday in a riot in which 3 persons were killed and 124 injured.

Blind Student Pleads Guilty to Drunken Driving

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Edgar Lee Edens, blind University of Tennessee student, pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge before a sympathetic judge in Criminal Court Friday.

Judge J. Fred Bibb approved a $100 fine and 60 days in jail but reserved judgment until Sept. 22. Bibb said the fine then will be suspended and Edens will be paroled from the jail term.

Bibb also promised to "do what I can" to help Edens' remain in school through aid from the state rehabilitation for the blind program.

Edens was "under the wheel" of the car and another student "with eyes" was directing the driver, according to officer Charles Miller, who arrested the two May 10, 1955. "Both were intoxicated," Miller said.

Edens testified he was "operating the gear, brake and clutch," while his companion operated the accelerator.

Truck Driver Leaves $115,000 Estate

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—Executors for the estate of Frank M. Kettner, a 60-year-old truck driver who died recently, said he left a personal estate of $115,000. "He was a real saver," attorney William Parry said.

Hagerty Gives Appraisal After Talk with Ike

President to Leave Hospital for Afternoon of Golf

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's doctors reported today that he is in "good" physical condition and that his heart shows "no symptoms or findings" of weakness or insufficiency.

By MERRIAM SMITH
United Press White House Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The results of President Eisenhower's "head to toe" medical checkup were described today as "excellent."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave this appraisal of the examination as the President prepared to leave the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center for an afternoon of golf.

"I think the results of the examinations were excellent," Hagerty said after talking with the President and his physicians this morning.

Mr. Eisenhower entered the Army hospital Thursday night. His extensive medical examination was completed this morning.

Mr. Eisenhower planned to drive directly from the hospital to the Burning Tree Club in eastern Maryland for his round of golf.

Hagerty said the formal medical report to be issued by the White House later today would be "fairly extensive."

First Checkup Since February
After the medical tests were completed this morning, the President worked with Hagerty on some official matters. He had a brief lunch at the hospital before leaving for the golf course.

The examination was the first thorough physical checkup the President has had since he announced Feb. 29 that he intended to run for a second term.

Mr. Eisenhower made his second-term announcement shortly after his last major medical checkup in February. Hagerty said that checkup concentrated chiefly on determining how completely he had recovered from his heart attack last Sept. 24.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the President's heart specialist, said after the February examination that "The President should be able to carry on an active life satisfactorily for another 5 to 10 years."

Mr. Eisenhower entered the hospital Thursday for the "routine" physical checkup that he likes to have at least once a year. He occupied the plush presidential suite on the hospital's top floor.

He spent his spare time Friday going over some papers and padding about the big Army medical center in his bathrobe and slippers.

To Drive to Farm
He chatted with 82-year-old retired Maj. Gen. Frank Cocklin, Lt. Gen. Carter B. Magruder and Philippine Ambassador Carlos P. Romulo. Later he visited the children's ward to thank some youngsters for notes they sent to him wishing him good health and asking about his grandchildren.

The President also took with him to the hospital an old friend's latest book, "History of the English Speaking People" by Sir Winston Churchill.

Mr. Eisenhower will attend the annual Gridiron Club dinner tonight.

He planned to drive to his farm at Gettysburg, Pa., Sunday to spend Mother's Day with Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud. Mrs. Doud also will be celebrating her 77th birthday.

Veteran Film Actor Louis Calhern Dies While Making Movie in Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Veteran film actor Louis Calhern died Saturday night in Nara, Japan, where he was filming "Teahouse of the August Moon," an MGM spokesman said.

The MGM official said the veteran actor of stage and screen died of a heart attack at 6:50 p. m.

The 62-year-old actor, who was making his 69th movie, had been suffering the past few days from a "slight cold," the spokesman said.

His body was taken to the U. S. Army hospital in Osaka to await instructions from his next of kin.

Mother Appeals To 8-Year-Old Son To Return Home

CHICAGO (AP)—Admiration for an 8-year-old "will of the wisp" boy who ran away from home turned to anxiety today with police searching for him for the 12th day.

His mother, Eileen Rausch, 32, published a letter to her elusive son, Leo, promising he would not be spanked for running away.

"We love you and we want you with us," she wrote. "Your grandparents, your father, your brothers, your sisters and I are terribly worried for you."

Mrs. Rausch, knowing her son's fondness for wearing clean clothes, also held out the promise of having fresh garments ready for the boy when he returned. "I will cook all the things you like to eat, and we will have a little party," she added.

Leo has baffled intensive efforts by a 50-man police search party since he vanished April 30 after telling a schoolmate, "I'm getting out of here."

He has been spotted many times in a neighborhood where his family formerly lived. However, police have been unable to close in on the quick-minded lad.

Priest Urges Letter Campaign to Free 13 Americans in China

CHICAGO (AP)—A Catholic priest who spent four years in Red Chinese prisons today called on Americans to flood the Chinese Communists with letters demanding the release of 13 other American prisoners.

The Rev. Harold Higney said the letter-writing campaign, to be called the Freedom Crusade, could bring results because "the Chinese Communists fear publicity very much."

Dan Brown Assists Operetta Production At Vanderbilt U.

Dan Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Brown, assisted in the production of a four-performance run of "Patience," a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta. The performance was put on by the Vanderbilt players at the Vanderbilt university theatre.

The entire company danced and pranced in the finale. The audience showed their great appreciation in many curtain calls. The finale was repeated with each curtain call. The dance steps were not only directed by Dan, but were improvised by him.

The production was a hilarious success. The Nashville Tennessean had this to say: "With absolute perfect pitch when it came to timing, their drill routines and pithy lines raised this above the level of an amateur performance." Spectators and local critics praised the directors for the skill with which it was presented.

Mrs. Brown recently returned from a visit with Dan, during which she attended the operetta.

Mrs. Phyllis Bell of Binghamton, N. Y., entered as Mrs. New York, won top honors Friday in the pie-making contest over 48 other contestants. "Mrs. Oregon," Cleo Matulis of Portland, won the cake-baking contest.

Mrs. Mary Stemple of Ft. Bragg, N. C., "Mrs. North Carolina," won first place in the house cleaning competition for the general appearance of the gas-equipped villa she occupies at this vacation resort.

Senate Probers To Question Oilman Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate lobby investigator disclosed today oilman Howard B. Keck will be questioned again regarding his connection with the vetoed natural gas bill.

George M. Fay, chief counsel of the new Senate lobby investigating committee, said the California oilman will serve "as a starting point" for its investigation.

So far, the committee has held one hearing. It heard testimony regarding the activities of the General Gas Committee which spent $119,000 in urging support of the natural gas bill.

Decide on Follow-Up. Keck, president of Superior Oil, testified before a select Senate committee that looked into a $2,500 campaign contribution rejected by Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) during the gas bill debate. The testimony showed that the $2,500 came from Keck's personal funds.

Reporting on the case incident last month, the select committee criticized "irresponsibility . . . run riot" by Elmer Patman and John Neff, two Superior Oil attorneys. The group said Keck can not disclaim responsibility for their activities.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) announced after a meeting of his new eight-man lobby committee Friday that the group had acted to follow up on the work of the select committee.

Will Look Into Charges. McClellan said the committee at its closed meeting also agreed to look into charges that Sen. Milton Young (R-S.D.) "sold out" in connection with the natural gas bill.

Young, who voted for the bill when it passed the Senate, asked that newspaper charges of a "sellout" be investigated.

Fine Strawberry Harvest Expected

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Illinois strawberry growers are preparing to harvest a crop which may be the finest in recent years, the Illinois Fruit Council said today.

Picking was expected to begin the Egypt area today, and reach its peak May 20. Harvesting in the Quincy area will begin about May 25.

A large crop is expected, the council said, even though a late frost nipped some of the blossoms and cut production by an estimated 10 per cent. Strawberry acreage has increased, it was said, with Centralia area growers reporting the largest gain.

"INSURANCE-WISE"

by BILL GHENT

TEENAGE AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE AVAILABLE

For many years, teenage youngsters as well as other young people, who are under twenty-five years of age, have continually had trouble in obtaining automobile insurance. This has been especially true for members of the armed services and for those youngsters who have been so unfortunate as to have been involved in an automobile accident.

However, this said, "Every cloud has a silver lining," and it looks as though the "silver lining" is beginning to show through in so far as young people are concerned when it comes to buying automobile insurance. The Robertson-Ghent Agency is now offering automobile insurance to young people without restrictions as to age, military status, occupation, color, race, or creed. This insurance is being written by the largest multiple line insurance writing company in the United States today; and, furthermore, it is being written at the regular price.

If you have been having trouble with your automobile insurance, it is now possible to get it at the Robertson-Ghent Insurance Agency without any prejudice to you simply because you happen to be a member of a particular group.

Four Killed in Auto Crash While Fleeing Storm Area
By United Press

Four persons were killed Friday night when an auto carrying a family fleeing a tornado that never occurred collided with another car near Auburn, Ind.

One of the survivors, Judith Anderson, 8, a Waterloo, Ind., told authorities her father, the Rev. James Johnson, was trying to escape a section in northern Indiana where tornado warnings had been posted.

The warnings for northern Indiana and southern Michigan were lifted during the night after powerful wind and rain storms whipped the area. Michigan state police reported a tornado near Ann Arbor which apparently did not touch the ground.

While Michigan battled flood waters caused by too much rain, motorists in New Mexico continued to encounter patches of blowing dust. Earlier dust storms in Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota were attributed by the U. S. Weather Bureau to a vicious storm system now moving through eastern Canada.

Behind the storm, a wave of warm air swept from the Gulf of Mexico into the upper Midwest. Minneapolis reported a high Friday of 77 degrees, the warmest reading since last October.

Cyprus Leaflets Urge Assassination Of British Governor

NICOSIA, Cyprus — The Cyprus underground posted leaflets today urging assassination of British Governor Sir John Harding.

"That man who shoots Harding will have his name written on a golden scroll," said notices posted on Nicosia walls.

British - directed police struck back in the leaflet war by scattering notices through Nicosia streets urging the populace to "disown the bloodstained, fanatical terrorists" of the pro-Greek underground.

Superintendent of SIU Test Farm Resigns; Accepts Government Post

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Carroll V. Hess, superintendent of Test Farms in the Southern Illinois University School of Agriculture, has resigned, effective June 1, to accept a position as agricultural economist with the Production Economics Research Branch of the United States Department of Agriculture Research Service.

Headquarters for Hess will be at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., where he is to report for duty June 4.

Born and reared on a farm near Waynesboro, Pa., Hess has specialized in agricultural economics. He was graduated from Penn State College at State College, Pa., where he later taught and did research in the department of agricultural economics for five years before coming to SIU March 1, 1954. He has master's and doctor's degrees from Iowa State College, Ames. During World War II he spent three years in the Army Air Force Technical School, teaching radio maintenance and repair.

At SIU Hess has been working toward activating family type Test Farms where Southern will conduct experiments on farming practices thought best for Southern Illinois conditions.

THE BEST SECURITY IS SOIL SECURITY

Essay By James Gates Stresses Need for Soil Conservation

Editor's Note: Last fall the four high schools in the county cooperated with the Saline County Soil Conservation district by offering to the students of their schools an opportunity to compete in an essay contest. Each school had participants in the contest. A prize was offered by the Soil Conservation district to the student from each school writing the best essay. A grand prize of a fifty dollar U. S. Saving bond was awarded to the student writing the best essay in the county. The grand prize was won by James Gates. His winning essay follows:

SOIL CONSERVATION ITS VALUE TO SALINE COUNTY
By James Kenneth Gates

My interpretation of the meaning of soil conservation would be as follows: A way for a farmer to preserve or conserve his soil in such a manner so as to make an efficient living for himself as well as for those whose happiness depends upon him.

Soil conservation is of equal importance to farmers, those whose occupations depend upon the farmer, all others, and the general welfare of our great nation. Good soils, good farms, good livings, and pride naturally follow each other; consequently, soil conservation, which leads to good soils, is of extreme importance to all farmers who are expecting to succeed in their goal in life. Good health, which is one of the most cherished possessions in anyone's life, is also indirectly derived from good soils, caused by the extensive use of soil conservation, one way of preserving soil. Without soil conservation any farmer who lives in the hilly, rocky sections of our county would have insufficient means to provide for happy, well-adjusted lives. People of a lot of divergent occupations rely upon the farmer who uses ingenuity in preserving his soil. Agricultural implement producers, the motor vehicle industry and trade workers, truck haulers, fertilizer and other chemical compound plant employees, oil and gas plant employees, and local electricity producing co-op workers are examples of such people. There are many people in Saline county whose very existence, as far as money is concerned, rely upon the farmer. Others whose occupations do not depend upon the farmer owe their very lives to the farmer; for if it were not for the produce of the farmer, these people might starve.

We Americans cannot maintain a high standard of living, either on our farms or in our cities, without secure farm homes, sufficient incomes for farm peoples, and an incessant supply of farm products, all derived from the sagacious conservation of our soil; thus, our entire nation's welfare depends upon the farmer who uses prescribed measures to preserve his soil. Our soil is the lifeblood of America; our independence and our opportunities stem from the soil. Our soil is the foundation of our happiness, prosperity, and progress. The power, wealth, and vigor of our people are directly due to the marvelous productivity of our soil. The extensive use of soil conservation affects the welfare of our nation as well as people of all occupations—no matter what.

There are several diversified ways, all of which are important, to control erosion. Contour strip farming—the planting of alternate strips of cultivated and close growing crops on the contours—holds fertile soils on the slopes. Terracing—an act of building a ridge of soil on the contour so as to hold the water—combats erosion on larger fields having long, gradual slopes. Water disposal outlets—the building of protective channels which carry off excess water from terraces and contour crop rows—helps in the fight against erosion. The planting of trees and grass helps to hold the surface soil on steep slopes where erosion is most likely to occur. Stubble mulch farming—allowing plant residues and soil improving crops to lie on the surface of the ground—conserves the soil. Fertilizers play an important role in erosion control by providing two effective means in soil conservation: (1) by promoting rapid and heavier growth of grass, cover crops, and other vegetation and (2) by increasing crop yields on less eroded land, there is less need for growing cultivated crops on land subject to severe erosion.

Soil conservation is of specific importance to Saline county. The climate of Saline county is characterized by a wide range between the extremes of winter and summer and by an abundant, well-distributed rainfall. Agriculture is first in importance in Saline county because it employs more people; the total value of its products is large, and practically the entire area of the county is utilized in its pursuit. Some farms have been abandoned and more are being abandoned each year because the land has passed the point of marginal utility—that is, the point at which, under present conditions of agriculture, they can be profitably operated. Many pass the point of marginal utility because of erosion, caused by the abundant rainfall; in fact, sometimes Saline county has rains that everyone refers to as "gully washers." Most of the farms that are being abandoned annually in Saline county are located in the belt of high, rough land, commonly referred to as "a spur of the Ozarks," which enters this county in the southwestern corner, stretching across the southern tier of townships in a northeasterly direction. Because Saline county has extremes in topography, soil conservation is of importance to all farmers living in this particular county but is extremely important to the farmers living in the Ozark region of the county. Saline county, and the farmers living within the county, both owe their position to their soil and produce.

Piper outranked all other Sudan grass varieties in producing usable pasture, hay or silage per acre in tests conducted in 1955 at Urbana, Brownstown and Carbondale experiment fields.

Farmers have now planted more than two-thirds of Illinois farmland in harvestable crops.

The results of gullies, caused by the lack of soil conservation, are devastating. The greatest damage caused by gullies is the carrying away of fertile soil. Other bad features of gullies are: (1) they cannot be readily crossed by farm implements, (2) they grow rapidly, if unchecked, and often undermine and necessitate the removal of farm building, (3) they are sometimes used as channels to carry sand from the top of a hill to deposit it on the rich bottom land, making it unproductive, and (4) the lives of livestock that graze near gullies are endangered because of the undermined banks. Because gullies give a farm an unprofitable appearance, reducing its market value and that of adjoining farms, the residents of many communities have been appalled by their destructive power.

Because soil conservation affects people of all occupations and the welfare of our nation, the Federal government has established a Soil Conservation Service to help farmers save their soil. Every step a farmer takes to hold and improve the soil on his farm contributes to the future welfare and happiness of all people. For these reasons, the act of preservation of the soil is of utmost importance.

Lumber Dry Kiln Added to Wood Pilot Plant at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. — A prefabricated lumber dry kiln of the latest type now is being added to the facilities of the cooperative Wood Products Pilot plant at the Southern Illinois University Vocational Technical Institute campus, according to William Rice, pilot plant superintendent.

The plant is a cooperative research and teaching project of SIU and the Carbondale U. S. Forest Research center. The dry kiln is expected to be ready for use before the end of June. Rice says the Research center will work in cooperation with the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory of Madison, Wisconsin, on finding additional facts about drying schedules for native hardwoods.

The added facility also will be used for training VTI Industrial Wood Technology students in operating and maintaining a dry kiln and for short courses and demonstrations in adult education programs.

The dry kiln is 30 by 15 by 16 feet, including a boiler room, and has a capacity for 6,000 board feet of lumber. The building has a steel framework on a concrete foundation and is covered by insulated aluminum panels. Internal fans will circulate steam-heated air during the lumber-drying process. The kiln temperature and humidity will be controlled automatically. The boiler will be oil fired.

Lumber, either green or air-dried, will be put on a kiln car in unit packages, rolled into the kiln, sealed in, and kept there for the duration of the drying cycle. This will vary with species of wood, lumber thickness, and initial moisture content.

Dry kilns are not common in the area, Rice points out, but they are essential to finishing wood products for manufacturing. They accelerate the drying process. For example, one-inch green oak lumber of 80 percent moisture requires six months to reach 15 percent moisture content by air drying. Such lumber still is not suitable for interior finish work. Three weeks in the dry kiln will reduce the moisture to eight percent which is suitable for finishing.

I LEARN FROM WATCHING MAMA

The school of experience has a wide reputation, and many are those who are proud to be its alumni.

But there is another school, an elementary school. And though it's less heralded, it turns out eager scholars year after year.

It hasn't really any name, and certainly no ivy-covered halls. Classes are held in the students' own homes. And the tuition is a wealth of love contributed by pupil and teacher alike.

But this is the best preparatory school in the world. For whatever it teaches has a place in the life of its graduates forever.

And the most encouraging sign on the spiritual horizons of America is the greater emphasis now being placed on the Bible, prayer, and religious education in the school of "watching mama!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Preaching to The Gentiles'

Acts 11:1-8
GOLDEN TEXT: "I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him." (Acts 10:34-35).
INTRODUCTION: Peter certainly gave a good account of himself as a Christian witness on the occasion of this text. It is not always easy to do the will of God. It was not easy for Simon Peter to preach salvation to the Gentiles, but when he knew it was God's will, he did it.

How did he preach? What was his sermon? Did he tell them that he was a great Apostle of the Lord? No! He simply told the story of what the Lord had done for him, and they were saved. The best story any Christian has to tell is what Christ has meant to his own life.

I. THE VISION (VV. 1-10)

Simon Peter learned a lesson in tolerance. He had never before thought of the Gentile as being equal to the Jew in God's sight. From this vision he learned better. He learned that God is no respecter of persons. Now, he is relating that lesson to the other disciples.

Peter, also, learned that when God speaks, he should listen. My! how we need to learn that lesson today. "What God declares clean, call thou not common." No man is common after the cleansing power of God has taken hold of him.

Friend, when God speaks to your heart, you should listen and obey.

II. GOD'S POWER EXPERIENCED (vv. 11-15)

Peter continues to explain to his fellow disciples that the Holy Spirit directed him to go down and preach to those Gentiles. When he did, the Holy Spirit came upon those Gentiles, and they were saved just as those Jews had been earlier. (Does it not seem earlier that they were astonished that a Gentile could be saved. Today, we are surprised and pleased when a Jew is saved and accepts Christ.)

Today, both Jews and Gentiles are being saved under powerful Gospel preaching. It is a wonderful thing to see both Jews and Gentiles sitting in the same sanctuary worshipping the same Lord and Master!

III. GOD'S WORD REMEMBERED (V. 16)

Peter said: "Then I remembered the word of the Lord." When he remembered God's word, his problem was solved. Peter learned that God's Word means exactly what it says. He put it into practice and was blessed for doing so. Friend, so it will be with you, if you will only obey the Word of God.

Notice that Cornelius, the Gentile, had gathered together some friends in his house to hear the preaching. Why not do the same today? Is your church home going to be filled this Sunday? Why not? Are you doing as Cornelius did and inviting your friends to worship with you? You should! You really should!

IV. GOD'S LOVE (VV. 17-18)

Notice that God loves all people! Some folks living today do not seem to think so. Some seem to think that God loves only people with a certain color of skin! No, my friend, God loves all people. Jesus, His Son, was given to die on a cruel cross for the salvation of all people who would trust him. Please note that Simon Peter did not object to being an instrument in God's hand to the winning of the Gentile.

CONCLUSION: We can be missionary minded today as Peter was in his day. In his great commission to all Christians, Jesus said: "make disciples, baptize disciples and teach them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you, and lo, I am with you even unto the end of the world." Yes, Jesus is with us today as we do His will. Let us tell the gospel story wherever we can. Let us remember that "God is no respecter of persons."

Bull Dogs Finish Fourth, Eldorado Third in District Track, Field Meet

Herrin Wins Title With Murphysboro In Second Place

Harrisburg finished fourth in the district track and field meet held at SIU stadium Friday. The Bull Dogs, with 16 1/2 points, were just back of Eldorado, in third place, with 19 points.

Herrin copped the district title by scoring 29 1/2 points, with Murphysboro, 1955 district winner, in second place with 22 1/2 points.

Harrisburg's Bull Dogs were paced by Tony Beal's seven points gathered on a second in the shot put and third in the discus. Bill Yates was third in the 220-yard dash, Fred McKenzie was third in the high hurdles and the 880-yard relay team of Yates, McKenzie, Beal and Don McGowan tied for second with Elkville.

Eldorado's points were scored on a first in the discus and fourth in shot by Lindell Lovellette, fifth in 440-yard dash by Jack Klaffer, first and second in mile by Leonard Willis and Bob Watson respectively and fourth place in the mile relay with a team composed of Klaffer, Ben Dempsey, Lester Feunquay and Richard Overton.

One Record Breaker

The only record-breaking event was the mile relay. Murphysboro was clocked at 3:33.4 to shatter a record of 3:36.5 set in 1955, also by Murphysboro. In fact, the first three finishers, Murphysboro, Marion and West Frankfort, separated by only a stride, all were under the previous mark.

Twenty-three schools were entered and the point totals follow—Herrin 29 1/2, Murphysboro 22 1/2, Eldorado 19, Harrisburg 16 1/2, Mt. Vernon 15, Marion 12, Cairo 12, Christyville 8, Benton 7, Mounds Douglass 7, Cairo Sumner 7, Hurst-Bush 5, Johnston City 5, Sparta 4 1/2, McLeansboro 3, Zeigler 2, Carbondale Community, Carbondale University High and Sesser failed to score.

Cardinals Aim For Pennant in Player Deals

CHICAGO (U.P.) — The Cardinals aren't kidding when they say they can win the National League pennant this year—and that's the big reason for the big Card-Phillies player trade.

General Manager Frank Lane of the Cards blithely talked "pennant" when he announced the two-for-three swap of pitchers Friday, and baseball men studying the deal agreed that it's "pennant-type" maneuver. In picking up two hurlers whose total age is 68 years, the Redbirds are shooting the works for the flag this year.

Murry Dickson, 39, and Herman Wehmeier, 29, figure to be important cogs in the St. Louis pennant drive. Dickson is the bullpen and Wehmeier as a starter.

The Phillies obtained veteran southpaw Harvey Eaddy, plus pitchers Stu Miller and Ben Flowers, in an effort to balance the lefty-righty set-up of their mound staff.

The Cardinals picked up still another veteran Friday night when they purchased 35-year-old infielder Grady Hatton from the Boston Red Sox for an undisclosed sum. Hatton, former Cincinnati and White Sox third baseman, batted .245 for Boston last year and is expected to see pinch-hitting duty with the Cards.

Lane, the "Frantic Frankie" who built the Chicago White Sox into an American League pennant contender by trading, said he was quite willing to add a pair of fairly aged players to his staff because he thinks the Cards' great need now is stability, not youth. "You can't win a pennant with a bunch of kids," said Lane. "And no one ever won a pennant without veteran ability in pitchers, particularly in relief pitchers."

Wehmeier should win 15 or 17 games as a starter and Dickson should win seven in relief, predicted Lane. Wehmeier had a 10-12 record for the Phillies last year and is 0-2 this year; Dickson was 12-11 last year and is 0-3 this year.

Isaacs, Fetchik Top Greenbrier Open Golf Play

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (U.P.) — Dark-horses Jack Isaacs of Hampton, Va., and Mike Fetchik of Yonkers, N. Y., were out in first place today as the studded field turned into the third round of the Greenbrier Open Golf Tournament.

The two "outsiders" tied for the top spot at the end of the second round, when pacemaking Sam Snead, the hot favorite here on his own course, ran into his old putting trouble and took 38 putts.

Isaacs, 39-year-old pro at Langley Air Force Base, fired a 66 in the second round for his two-round total of 133. Fetchik, who had been in second place at the end of the third round, had a 67 for his 133.

Snead, who led the first round with a 65, soared to 71 on the second circuit as his putter sputtered and was tied for third place at 136 with Ed (Porky) Oliver of Wilmington, Del., and Vic Ghezzi of Inwood, N. Y.

Dodgers, Back at Ebbets Field, Again Play Like Champs; Beat Giants, 8-4

By United Press

Everybody wants to find a new home for the Brooklyn Dodgers, but without Ebbets Field the world champions probably would look like lost children on a busy Sunday at Coney Island.

On their first western tour, the Dodgers won but two of seven games. And they've only split even in their first two contests at their newly-adopted "home-away-from-home" in Jersey City.

However, the champs looked like champs again Friday night when they returned to Ebbets Field for the first time since April 29 and blasted the New York Giants, 8-4, before 24,431 slightly-chilled but warmly-cheering fans.

Two of Brooklyn's heroes in last year's World Series had a big hand in the victory. Right-hander Roger Craig allowed only six hits and struck out eight, while left-fielder Sandy Amoros drove in three runs with a double and a triple.

Sandy Ices Game

Craig, who has won six games at Ebbets Field without a defeat since he joined Brooklyn last season, gave up a two-run homer to Ray Katt in the second inning, but the Dodgers went ahead with a four-run burst in the fourth, highlighted by Amoros' double. Little Sandy then iced matters with a two-run triple in the fifth.

The Milwaukee Braves, meanwhile, were so happy to abandon their rain-drenched home grounds they clobbered four Redleg hurlers for 13 hits in posting a 9-8, 10-inning victory at Cincinnati. Despite the heavy artillery, the National league's pace-setters finally pushed across their winning run on Johnny Logan's second sacrifice fly of the game.

Rookie catcher Danny Kravitz smashed out a ninth-inning grand slam home run, his first in the majors, to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 6-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Southpaw Luis Arroyo, obtained from St. Louis earlier this week, was the winning pitcher.

Skowron Leads Yanks

In the American league, the pace-setting New York Yankees nipped the Baltimore Orioles, 3-2, on a pinch single by Bill Skowron with the bases loaded in the ninth inning. Lefty Whitey Ford chalked up his fifth victory without a defeat, although he was reached for 12 hits.

The Cleveland Indians remained two games back of the Yankees by whipping the Kansas City Athletics, 4-1, in a game called after five innings because of rain. Short-
